TARDY STEAMER BALKS PLAN FOR LIBERTY SHOW

Delay in arrival of the Marama entirely alters the program of the Liberty theater tonight. Instead of the first concert by Romanoff, the violinist, and the Jourdan Operatic Quartette, a program of feature pictures will be substituted, Romanoff and the Jourdan's making their initial appearance tomorrow.

Coming as he does, after a most satisfying recital by America's most artistic and talented woman violinist, Romanoff's performance will be watched with keen interest, his style being eccentric, while his bowing is claimed by European critics to eclipse even the great Joachim's. A peculiar part of Romanoff's performance is that he seldom repeats and is said to have an almost inexhaustible repertoire of the various virtuosos masterpieces. His engagement, at popular prices, will doubtless be appreciated by lovers of the violin, who were unable to attend the recent concert.

SHE SAVES POOR HOME. BUT PRICE IS HIGH

Forced to buy her little Punchbowl property at twice its appraised value to protect it from a group of cold-blooded bidders a little old Portuguese woman this morning bravely put up $1295 for the privilege of staying in the tiny hillside house she has called home for more than a decade.

The property was bid in for the woman by Manuel Reis only after outsiders had run the price from the appraised value of $673 to $1295. The bidding for all the lots was very keen, attracting a large crowd to the capitol building, most of whom were Portuguese. When the little home and lot of the woman was put up, there were many cries of "Let her take it!" "Don't run up the price!" but several bidders paid no attention and ran the property up to a figure that will strain the woman's scanty resources to cover.

Fourteen lots were sold this morning and the spiritedness of the bidding is shown by the fact that the fourteen lots were appraised for $8,181.31 and sold for $22,175.

Mrs. Miller and her party will make a trip to Hilo at which time they will pay a visit to the volcano and on their return to Hilo Mrs. Miller will inspect the chapter in that city. The party intends to remain in Honolulu until after the Floral Parade and Carnival.

PORTO RICO SUGAR MAKES BIG SLUMP

Porto Rico sugar led the sugar market decline today with a drop of 0.18 cent below the fall in Hawaiian basis reported yesterday. Its price being only a shade above that of Cuban deliveries for January as reported the same time. Alexander & Baldwin, Ltd., received the following cablegram from its New York branch this morning:

"There has been a sale of 96 test Porto Rico centrifugals, which does not affect Hawaiian sugar, at 3.55. Seventy-eight centrals in Cuba grinding."

PERFECTLY SAFE.
